

VIVA Adds Four Institute of Physics Journals

VIVA

The Virtual Library of Virginia

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release (December 20, 2005)

VIVA, the Virtual Library of Virginia, is pleased to announce that four journal titles from the Institute of Physics (IOP) have been added to the impressive list of scholarly physics journals available electronically to VIVA institutions. The Institute of Physics is a leading international physics publisher and society with over 37,000 members.

In February of this year, VIVA concluded an agreement with IOP that gave Virginia college students and faculty access to the current contents of 31 IOP journal titles. Previously, the archives of those journals (some in print since 1874) had become available to institutions of higher education in the Commonwealth, adding a wealth of scientific information: over 1.5 million pages of research in over 100,000 articles.

New titles added are:

- Journal of Geophysics and Engineering, which covers all earth-physics disciplines.
- Journal of Neural Engineering, which publishes interdisciplinary articles at the intersection of neuroscience, neurobiology, and engineering.
- Physical Biology, a journal focusing on the integration of biology with quantitative scientific fields, and
- Physica Scripta, a journal published by IOP on behalf of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences (Internet access to begin in 2006).

VIVA is a consortium of the libraries of 72 non-profit research or higher education institutions in Virginia, including 39 state-assisted colleges and universities at 55 campuses within the Commonwealth of Virginia, 32 independent private, non-profit institutions, and The Library of Virginia. VIVA's mission is to provide, in an equitable, cooperative, and cost-effective manner, enhanced access to library and information resources for Virginia's academic libraries serving the non-profit higher education community. VIVA is funded by the Commonwealth of Virginia through the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV) and by investments from participating institutions.
